*An American Tradition
for 150 years*

Smith & Wesson®

Dear Friends and Customers:

In 2002 Smith & Wesson celebrates the 150th anniversary of its founding. "An American Tradition since 1852" has never meant more to us than it does today. We are proud to be "American Made, American Owned" particularly now in these uncertain times. The old adage "The only thing that never changes is change itself" has new meaning for all of us, but one thing you can always count on is Smith & Wesson's dedication to quality, dependability, and service.

We have talked to many of our customers this year, and have found that there is much more interest in enjoying leisure time near home. Our 2002 catalog of Apparel, Accessories, Gifts and Collectibles reflects this trend. Please take a few moments to check out our new "Outdoor Lifestyle" section as well as the excellent assortment of products you have come to expect. As always, our products are 100% guaranteed to meet your satisfaction.

With Kindest Regards,

John Steele

Director of Licensing and Merchandising
Smith & Wesson Corp.
